

Range Announces Nora Asset Sale for $876 Million

November 3, 2015

FORT WORTH, TX -- (Marketwired) -- 11/03/15 -- RANGE RESOURCES CORPORATION (NYSE: RRC) today announced that it has signed a definitive sales agreement to sell its Nora assets for a purchase price of $876 million. The properties encompass approximately 3,500 operated wells and approximately 460,000 net acres in the Nora/Haysi combined fields located primarily in southwestern Virginia. Third quarter production for the Nora assets was 109 Mmcf per day representing 7.5% of Range's net production. The sale is scheduled to close by year-end and is subject to customary closing conditions and purchase price adjustments. The net proceeds will be used to reduce total debt by an expected 24% and further strengthen the Company's financial position. The sale is also expected to reduce direct operating expenses, brokerage natural gas and marketing expenses and general and administrative expenses for 2016.

Commenting, Jeff Ventura, Range's Chairman, President and CEO, said, "While these are great assets operated by a talented team, bringing the value forward through a sale was the best decision for our shareholders. Using our consistent, return-focused capital allocation process, we will continue to review our portfolio for opportunities to bring value forward where other assets cannot compete for capital in comparison to our 1.6 million stacked-pay acreage position in the Marcellus, Utica and Upper Devonian. We believe that Range can continue to drive down costs, improve capital efficiencies and enhance netback pricing in our core Marcellus areas, all of which should further enhance our results in 2016."
